A TRADITION OF EXCELLENCE AND INNOVATION

With over 12 million customers in the midwest, Ameritech is recognized as one of the leading telecommunications companies in the world. In 1987, with the Michigan Bell CASH CARDSM, Ameritech became one of the first major U.S. telecommunications companies to offer prepaid phone cards. Now, Ameritech continues its role as a leading force in the telecard industry with the introduction of the new Ameritech PrePaid Card.

Collecting an Ameritech prepaid card is collecting a piece of tradition that dates back over a hundred years. A tradition that includes a commitment to quality and service, along with a keen focus on our customers. We hope you enjoy your Ameritech prepaid phone cards as much as we enjoy producing them.

ON THE MONEY

With this issue we celebrate our second birthday. Two candles on the cake, with many more to come!

Our optimism springs from many sources. At the top of the list is the support from you, our readers. Lately we have been mailing almost 15,000 copies per month and the number of subscribers has been steadily increasing. In turn you have been enthusiastically building your collections, thus supporting the dealers and issuers who advertise with us.

The advertisers, too, obviously are very important. Most of our revenue comes from advertising and without advertisers' faith in us we could not create the kind of high-quality product our readers have come to expect.

Product quality has indeed been an objective for us and we think that's been improving, too. Just take a look at our early issues and contrast them with the current product. Thanks to the input we have received from our reader survey and regular contact with collectors, so many changes have been made that even the staff here at Moneycard is amazed at how the magazine has developed.

Another big positive is the continuing growth of the phonecard market itself in all areas — usage, promotion and collecting — and the broadening of the moneycard market to encompass the financial and transportation sectors. Today phonecard issuers are becoming increasingly sophisticated in the design of their cards and in their technical capabilities just when VISA is launching its VISA Cash and TravelMoney cards to coincide with the Atlanta Olympic Games.

And as if all of that weren't enough, we continue to see the growth of the two trends that are driving the development of electronic money: increasing cost of physical cash; decreasing cost of electronic cash.

With the growing strength of the industry and the increasing validity of moneycards as practical collectibles, together with the support of you, our readers and advertisers, we're looking forward to another great year covering our hobby.

Last month we ran a story about cards issued by HT Technologies that had PINs that did not work. HT's response appears in this month's column, "Readers Always Write." We also invited readers to submit any HT cards or those of any other issuer that also had non-functioning PINs. Ironically the first submission we received about another issuer was from one of HT's owners, Peter Heitman. We will be doing a follow-up piece in the near future. But remember, we cannot act on any of your problems in this area unless we hear from you.

With this issue we continue the process of rolling out our new numbering system. Two points to mention in this regard: first, what do you think of it thus far? We'd like to hear from you. Second, until the numbering process has been completed, each month you will see issuers where we have published greatly expanded listings but have not assigned numbers. The reason is that we aren't certain that we have captured all of the cards issued by the firm in question. This is where you come in. Take a close look at the partially complete listings. Are there any that you know of that we have missed? If so, tell us, please. You'll be helping us and all collectors and dealers who all want to see this work done as well as humanly possible.

In the coming year I think we can all look forward to a further maturing and expansion of the market. The Atlanta Olympics may turn out to be the spark that lights the moneycard collecting fire in the hearts and minds of many people. Also in the next year I think we'll see collectors focusing more attention on older cards, especially the rarer early RBOC issues.

Whatever the future may bring, of one thing you can be sure: Moneycard Collector will report on it fairly and impartially so that you can maximize your enjoyment in this terrific hobby.

"Uncertain Utility" was misleading

In HT Technologies' opinion, your article was extremely misleading, confusing and incomplete. HT Technologies, Inc. has issued more than 4.6 million cards in the past 18 months. The 11 cards with LDDS WorldCom time on them that you found to be inactive represent .0002391 percent of the cards sold. Our records indicate that 10 of the 11 inactive cards were stolen from our inventory by two former sales representatives now attempting to set up a competing business using our customer database.

Moreover, the card you took from Moneycard's inventory was sent to you as a sample only, for press release purposes, and was not intended to have an active PIN. The San Francisco police currently are investigating the alleged theft (case No. 960 342 499). The fact that Moneycard Collector was faxed copies of the cards anonymously should have told you something.

PIN numbers are always sent to printers in an inactive state for obvious security reasons. As a printer, there is no reason for Mr. Demarest to "check PIN numbers." Moreover, Mr. Demarest was paid in full the amount agreed to for his services and his alleged statement is totally irrelevant.

After HT cards are received into inventory, they are then activated. If they are cards with LDDS WorldCom time, they are activated in batches before shipping due to the fact that the time is prepaid. Very rarely, a card or two from an inactive batch will get mixed up with batches of active cards. Customer service detects and corrects them immediately.

As a result of the theft stated above and your subsequent receipt of the stolen cards, HT Technologies has activated all its inventory of LDDS WorldCom cards just to be on the safe side. Because of our excellent, long-term relationship with the senior management of LDDS WorldCom, HT was able to expedite the activation of its extensive inventory of world-class LDDS WorldCom cards.

Additionally, HT Technologies' cards remain active and usable forever. Our system has been designed to handle hundreds of millions of active cards.

HT has always enjoyed satisfied customers. Their positive letters and supportive response to your article has been overwhelming. We welcome any questions or comments from your readers and may be reached at (800) 820-8980 Monday through Friday 8 a.m. - 5 p.m. PST. We may also be reached on the Internet at our Web site address <http://www.htti.com/~telecard> or e-mail at htsales@htti.com.

Daniel E. Tudor, President and CEO, HT Technologies

It is important for collectors to know that phonecards are usually activated in batches that can be as small as hundreds or as large as thousands of cards, depending on the size of the total issue. Thus the 11 cards from six different batches that were found to be inactive likely represented a much larger number of cards, though how many we do not know.

Secondly, according to the District Attorney's office in San Francisco, the San Francisco Police theft case mentioned by HT is no longer under investigation. Due to a lack of evidence, it was closed on June 13, the day after this letter was sent to Moneycard Collector.

No Dealings with HT

The information printed in July's edition pertaining to HT Technology ("Uncertain Utility," Page 10) was correct with one major exception. Worldwide Digital has had no dealings with HT.

I will stand by my statement that HT did not pay its bills on cards printed when they did business with my former company, Mark One Digital in Dallas, Texas. HT President Dan Tudor's statement that HT's lack of payment was due to pricing problems was incorrect. HT knew well in advance what the cards would cost prior to any printing. Price lists were sent to them on a regular basis to avoid such a problem. Their own salespeople told me that was how Dan did business. I did battle with Dan for months over outstanding invoices with no success at all in collecting. I understand that other printers also had this same problem. Why did no one else stand up?

My concern is that Worldwide Digital has been brought into the picture and I hope you can correct that misconception.

Mark H. Demarest, President, Worldwide Digital

In reference to HT ...

I am writing this letter in reference to your story of HT Technologies. I run a new business named Tropical Mystique. My company sells gifts, mostly exotic birds, to tropical animal owners. As a phonecard collector, I am incorporating any exotic bird phone card designs that I can find into my inventory. This has been an extremely difficult task; there's not a whole lot out there! When I found that HT Technologies had the Taugher phone card set available, I tried to purchase them. They would not sell to me (this was in March 1996). Their only response was that they were sold out - however they had a few left and would sell me a set at a discount because the PINs were invalid and the cards would not work. I believe I paid $15 for the set of five. I bought one set for myself. The cards advise they expire in 12 months.

I have not scratched off the PIN numbers. I really don't feel like I was taken because I was advised the PINs were invalid. However, I am concerned about the other cards I bought from them. I will be selling the Taugher Tropics of Conversation set of three (fish) scene cards - and these cards do not state that they have an expiration date. They are also LDDS WorldCom - 10 units each. I would like to know that the PINs are turned on - I am selling to people who are not really in the phonecard market and cards that are invalid will ruin my reputation!

Leisa Lloyd, South Florida, FL

Thanks to the proactive position taken by LDDS, the PINs on the tropical fish set have been activated. Also, see the fifth paragraph of Dan Tudor's letter, at left.

Pocket Change

Money on cards a striking thematic.

By Nancy L. Blackburn

People often gather commonplace things — like coins — that with thoughtful, careful selection can become uniquely collectible. Reach into your pockets and count your change ... how many coins are on your dresser, in the kitchen junk drawer, or accumulating in a dusty bottle in the corner of the family room?

Few things have proved more enduring than coins. More than 2,500 years ago metal coins were first produced in the Mediterranean region and spread throughout the world. Numismatics, the study and collecting of coins, (Latin “numisma” and Greek “nomisma,” both meaning “coin”), began as part of the 14th-century Italian Renaissance, when merchants, bankers and nobles rediscovered and kept coins reflecting ancient cultures. Today archeologists, historians, and collectors alike delight in the discovery coins that present a picture of ancient history, politics, religion and art. There is a feeling of continuity when we hold a coin that rested in the palm of a man or woman who lived centuries ago.

It's not surprising, then, that images of coins on cards have gained popularity among moneycard collectors.

According to Klaus Degler, of USACard, Denver, Colorado, “The relationship between coins and phonecards is just in its infancy. The American Numismatic Association, established by an Act of Congress in 1912 and the world's largest educational, non-profit coin organization, recognized phonecards or moneycards as a numismatic in 1993.

“Two years ago, very few coin dealers had heard of phonecards, and now most dealers I talk to offer their customers phonecards as an unique enhancement to their coin and currency collections. As more people get involved in phonecards, first issues will be highly desirable, as they are often meaningful and low mintage releases.”

“Sound money never expires,” Degler said. “That is why gold and silver have endured as money for 3,000 years. I could spend a U.S. $10 bill today whether it was made in 1985 or 1995. If we as an industry are to be taken seriously by numismatists as issuers of ‘money,’ we would hope that telcoms will back the time value of their cards without expiration. USACard decided from the beginning to set an example by backing the time on our cards indefinitely.”

With the interest in currency and coins as collectibles, it is little wonder that their images quickly found their way onto phonecards.

Some visitors and participants of the first U.S. phonecard show in San Francisco in March 1993 received the first phonecard issued by a coin dealer. The 350 complimentary cards featured representations of three very rare early U.S. gold coins, including the $4 Stella. With time carried by CardCaller Canada, these were commissioned by Degler on behalf Rocky Mountain Coin.

Within a few months, AmeriVox issued the first

AmeriVox, Oregon Trail; $20 denomination; 500 issued; July 1993.

York was joint sponsor. These cards have steadily climbed in value: The "Princess" is valued as high as $50, and the "Oregon" more than $150.

Coin collectors' enthusiastic reception of these show cards has resulted in the issuance of official show cards by AmeriVox for the ANA annual and smaller mid-year conventions. The 1994 ANA 103rd in Detroit, Michigan, saw three AmeriVox cards: 1870 Proof Quarter Eagle $2.50, with 5,000 issued; 1913 Liberty Head Nickel $5, with 3,000 issued; and 1933 Eagle $10, with 1,000.

USACard issued its inaugural $2.50 ANA issue, features a 1891 $20 gold Liberty that honors the year the ANA was founded, as well as the 1994 $50 Gold Eagle, which is the year of the show. This was a complimentary issue, limited to 1,000. There was also a two-card puzzle set: a Moneycard Collector/Ameritech 40-cent card (19,000) showing a '57 Chevy BelAir rear quarter panel and bumper, with silver coins, and a $3 Ameritech card featuring spinning 1894 U.S. silver dollars (6,000).

AmeriVox again issued the official phonecard of the 104th ANA Convention at Anaheim, California. Collectors anticipate another "official" to be issued in Denver for the 105th. All of these have the makings of an excellent rare coin thematic cross-over collection.

With extensive backgrounds as long-time coin dealers, USACard founders Robert Mish and Klaus Degler are known to use their numismatic expertise and knowledge to issue phonecards that portray coins. Collectors will find rare and valuable coins shown on the official show phonecards, such as those issued for the Long Beach Coin and Collectibles Expo and other major U.S. coin conventions. USACard's official cards commissioned for international coin shows in Singapore, Hong Kong, Norway, Chicago and New York always feature a coin or banknote that is significant to either the show or the locality. Last year the 1995 "Year of the Pig" coin cards proved to be especially popular, as has the 1996 "Year of the Rat" animal coin cards.

For the rarest of the rare in phonecard coin and currency collectibles, Mish said, "One Singaporean colleague had us produce phonecards, each picturing one of nine rare banknotes from a set he bought in auction. The resulting publicity from the phonecards helped drive up the value of his banknote set from $10,000 to more than $50,000."

"To us, phonecards are another form of money," Mish said. "Whether money is stone, metal, paper, or plastic, it is all medium of exchange — all stored value of some sort. We view phonecards — moneycards — as having more relation to coins and currency than to sportcards. As the hobby of coins is termed 'numismatics,' we teach that phonecards are 'teleniumia.' This has resulted in much better P.R. for phonecards within the coin industry, since the dealers love money, but many are disinterested in just cards."

In 1993 Steve Lowenstein of Mercury Marketing began an eight-card series to commemorate the 1792-1992 bicentennial of U.S. coinage. "Telephone cards are a 21st century form of money," he said, "... and are probably the most important form of money now." The first card was a 20-unit card that featured the 1793 chain cent, front and back, issued by TravelTel. The second card shows the front and back of the 1792 half dime. According to Lowenstein, President George Washington and First Lady Martha Washington melted their silverware to make the first of these coins; Martha's likeness was used on the front. The third card was the 1794 Flowing Hair silver dollar; other cards included the 1792 birch cent, 1794 Flowing Hair half dime, 1795 $10 eagle gold piece, 1796 Draped Bust dime and quarter. These were all $10 cards, time by by Internet, with mintage of 2,000 each.

Coin collectors have especially enjoyed a recent issue by American National Phone Card, Tarzana, California, designed for the West Coast Coin Expo in Seattle, Washington. With almost 30 years in collectibles, Richard Nelson explained that Orca, Betty Boop and the coin were chosen for graphic and historical representations. The coin roped by Betty is Saint Gauden's high-relief $20 gold piece that replaced the double eagle in 1907. The unusually high relief meant the coins were hard to stack, and so the coins were not popular with bankers. Today these coins range in value from $5,000 to $100,000, depending on quality. There were 1,000 of these coin cards provided in a color folio for $9.95 each.

The popularity of coins can be seen by the frequent appearance of money on phonecards. In 1994, GTN created a three-dimensional falling coins card; ConQuest has at least three assorted coinage coins; Stephen Schwartz of Sears Phone Card Department chose a background of coins for their Quest/Liberty card, as did 7-Eleven. U S WEST handed out $1 complimentary Falling Coin cards to introduce customers to the phonecard concept. NYNEX advertises their "as good as gold" Brasher Doubloon, "the first American gold coin," in a matched serial number set of five plus a free commemorative card for $101. There were 5,000 sets available.

This is history coming together with technology of the 21st century. If coin collecting has passed you by, consider the alternative of "teleniumia," the collection of moneycards, stored value cards, phonecards, telecards, prepaid cards, remote memory cards and stripe cards.

MAKING PHONECARDS TAKES MORE THAN INK AND PLASTIC. On the surface, a collectible phonecard offers an appealing image or theme, but what's behind that scene is important, too.

Understanding how phonecards are manufactured can be as much of a challenge as collecting them — how they are printed, the types of printing processes available and the reasons cards look different or might not perform as planned.

There are four main types of printing technology used in printing phonecards — photodigital, offset, screen and rotary letterpress — and each has advantages and disadvantages. This is particularly true when the cards are collectibles.

"It is far more difficult to produce a high-quality card consistently than most people imagine," says Mike Caulley, president of Caulastics.

A card's appearance is always a primary consideration, and there are many things that can affect a card's image quality. Some potential problems are overall durability, quality of printing, consistent color throughout the run and the risk of delamination, cracking, scratching or fading.

The durability of a card is directly related to how the card is used, not how thick or how rigid it is. Cards that are surface printed and intended to be used in a magnetic swipe reader will be exposed to far greater scratching. All cards scratch — no matter what material is used or who prints it. The picture on the face of the card, rather than the laminating material, generally shows scratches. Color is a factor, too: A solid black card surface will show the scratches far more than a card with a predominately white background.

Paper laminated cards have the highest risk of delaminating: The paper will start to weaken and come apart when exposed to any flexing or moisture.

Fading, the loss of color caused when the card is exposed over time to harsh light, becomes noticeable the longer a card has been out on the street. There is little that can be done to prevent fading either by the collector or printer. Inks to inhibit fading are very expensive and, at best, only slow the fading process.

Some collectors have complained of cards that, when compared to other cards in the same run, do not match or have slight differences in color. Smaller offset printing presses cannot hold color throughout a run as well as larger, more expensive printing presses. While printers work to control color shift problems, tactics such as offering cards at a lower price or with a quicker turnaround time can have an impact on quality.

TYPES OF PRINTING

"Printing technique selection involves a multitude of choices. Each is a trade-off," notes Ken Thompson, president of Ultra Plastic Printing. "Do you want cards fast or slow? Cheap or deluxe? Museum quality or utility-grade printing?" The customer's needs and wants dictate which method is the best, he says.

OFFSET

The most common offset-printed cards are either surface printed or overlaminated, and there is a big difference between the two processes.

Major credit cards and ATM cards are offset-printed then overlaminated. While American National Standards Institute specifications govern credit-card manufacturing, phonecards are not now bound by those standards.

An overlaminated card consists of a center sheet on which an image has been printed, then sandwiched between sheets of clear vinyl. This "sandwich" is heat- and pressure-laminated, giving the card a rigid, high-gloss appearance consistent with standard credit cards. The laminated sheets are then die cut to produce a finished card.

The most common type of offset surface printed cards are those printed on Texel — now Plextor — printing presses. The press prints each color — cyan (blue), magenta (red), yellow and black one pass at a time. On most four-color process orders, the cards will pass through four times on the front and one time on the back. The ink is applied directly to the card surface.

A new technology in offset printing is being developed by companies such as Indigo. Indigo makes an offset printing press that transfers a computer file of the image directly onto the press, saving time and money. In traditional offset printing, a negative image is burned onto a metal plate. When attached to a roller on a printing press, ink is picked up on the image and printed on the card surface.

The advantage of the Indigo system is that the press can print the card image and the PIN information at the same time. Companies such as Worldwide Digital have worked hard to develop this technology.

To offer the best protection against scratching, the cards should have a clear coat applied over the printing, but there is an additional cost to apply clear coat and most card buyers waive this feature. Due to the ink being applied to the surface of the cards, they will not have as high of a polish as an overlaminated card.

The single biggest advantage of a Plextor product is in the ability to get a high-quality product in short runs. The cost to create 1,000 surface-printed cards is far less than have the same 1,000 cards overlaminated. But on orders of 15,000 or more cards, generally, the cost for a overlaminated card is lower.

If you intend to keep cards for a long time, it is important to handle them carefully. From the printer's point of view, the best method to limit the risk of scratching is to have the front surface printed with a matte finish. A matte finish, duller in appearance than a polished or laminated surface, tends to show fingerprints more but resists scratching better than a glossy finish.

"If it is a short run, inexpensive, reasonable quality four-color job the Texels (Plexor) absolutely cannot be beat!" Ultra Plastic's Thompson says.

The manufacturing of chip-based stored value cards (SVCs) is similar to producing regular phonecards: The printer starts with either an overlaminated or surface-printed card. A cavity is drilled out of the card to the size of the chip, which is inserted and glued into place. Early prototypes had gluing problems, but today the cards are manufactured to very tight specifications.

PHOTODIGITAL

The conventional card market in the early 1990s, when phonecards were introduced, primarily consisted of overlaminated, offset-printed cards or screen-printed cards. Photographic printing pioneered by Brilliant Color Cards helped force the U.S. credit-card industry to accept other printing methods.

Photodigital printing has a number of strong advantages and some disadvantages. The quality of printing offers outstanding depth of the image and sharpness of the photo. However, photodigital does not represent conventional printing colors as accurately as other methods. If a customer has a specific PMS (Pantone Matching System) color that must be matched, then photodigital will not work as well.

The process is much like a neighborhood photo shop. An image is converted into a photograph negative. The negative is then inserted into a print processor. Using a polyester core material in the processor lends a vibrant quality to the image.

Brilliant Color Cards and ColorFast are two main printers who offer photodigital printing.

SCREEN PRINTING

Until the early 1990s, all short-run cards were printed by screen printers. The process of screen printing is similar to that used by T-shirt printers or sign printers. A screen of an image is made and then ink is wiped across the screen, forcing ink through the screen and onto the substrate, in this case a vinyl or other similar plastic core material. Historically, screen printers could only run a 75- or 100-line screen, four-color process film, and the large dot size of those screens can be an obstacle in producing high-quality phonecards.

As with all technologies, there are exceptions: For example, Continental Plastics is one of the few companies able to print four-color process with screen printing and get a very high-quality product.

ROTARY LETTERPRESS

In rotary letterpress printing, the printing press prints in rolls at very high speeds and can produce the complete card in one pass — printing the image, the PIN and control number and the scratch-off over the PIN. There are very few printers specializing in rotary letterpress printing who do phonecards. Companies such as Rand McNally of Chicago have perfected the process of printing on plastic four-color process.

To make rotary letterpress economical, press runs need to be greater than 50,000 cards of one image. When a run gets into the millions, the cost per card drops greatly.

Rotary letterpress printing requires thin material, 10 to 16 mils thick, similar to the cards produced in Japan. The print image is close to offset-printed cards.

"There is a general misunderstanding that a thin 10-mil polyester card will not hold up as well as a standard conventional credit card," says Murray Dawson, vice president of Rand McNally & Co., "In fact, the 10-mil polyester card will greatly outlast and outperform when compared to that of a laminated vinyl credit card."

Transit cards, produced by rotary letterpress, are also collectibles. Transit cards are issued for metro trains and are now being produced in very high quality and relatively short runs. Atlanta's MARTA has produced a new image every month for the Olympics.

No matter what event is being featured, there is no single "right" way to print a moneycard. Just as it is up to the collector to decide what he or she wants to collect, it is up to the issuer to decide which method best achieves his goals.

CARS, PLANES, SPORTS AND WEDDING BELLS If it's fast cars you like, Caymen Resources has recently issued 2,500 10-minute cards depicting the sleek Dodge Viper. (For more on cars, see Jim Chudnow's feature on Page 72). The cards were licensed by Dodge for the National Automobile Historic Collection's 100th anniversary of the auto industry. A portion of the cards was given to the NAHC as well as Chrysler executives who attended the Indianapolis 500. Phontime was provided by Cable and Wireless.

The Olympics are a hot theme, and Caymen Resources also issued a card for the games. This card is interesting for many reasons. It's printed with full-color front and back and displays the Coca-Cola and Adidas logos on both sides. The word "always" is written in Pharsi (Iran's national language) above the Coke logo. These cards were commissioned by the Iranian Olympic team with 5,000 10-unit cards issued. Caymen, which operates a subsidiary office in Iran, shipped a large portion of the cards to that Middle Eastern country. There, the cards will be distributed to the national team, who can use the cards to call home while in Atlanta. Cable and Wireless supplies the time.

Star Telecom just released 3,200 15-minute cards for Continental Airlines. The card was issued to travel agents and used as gifts to customers flying on any of Continental's Pacific routes.

LCI International scores a hole-in-one with its release of a two new cards issued for the FedEx/St. Jude Golf Classic, held June 17-23 in Memphis, Tenn. The 1,500 40-minute event or "tournament" cards were available at the charity event for $10 (face value). LCI created a second 15-minute card with the same artwork for Federal Express promotional use. Sales of the tournament cards, as well as 20 percent of all recharge fees will be donated to the St. Jude Children's hospitals.

LCI International; Federal Express-St. Jude Hospital Golf Classic; 40 minutes/1,500 issued, 15 minutes/2,300 issued; June 1996; (800) 968-1287.

Caymen Resources; Iranian Olympics; 10 minutes; 5,000 issued; June 1996.

Star Telecom; Continental Airlines; 15 minutes; 3,200 issued; June 1996.

Our friends from up north, Canada Telecom Network, have a cool-looking card for Pepcid AC, the heartburn remedy. CTN produced 1,000 cards with 20 minutes of time to promote the product to pharmacies.

Finally, I'd like to thank everyone who offered their congratulations to me and my lovely new wife Sandy. I had 100 cards produced to commemorate our wedding with 5 minutes of time and a custom voice prompt.

That's it for this month. Remember to keep looking through that coupon section in the Sunday paper, because you never know when you just might find a phonecard offer. Happy collecting!

AMERICA'S MOST WANTED

America's Most Wanted is like an old hit parade this month: very few changes, a few newcomers, lots of old friends and a few who've dropped off the chart. The summer doldrums? I don't think so. Last month saw some blockbusters, and they stayed on for another month! For example, last month's No. 1, Cracker Jack, is still there. Although the issuer has long ago sold out, many of the reporting dealers continue to experience high collector demand. Only 1,893 collectors can own a Cracker Jack, and not all cards have been dispersed. As they slowly and surely fall into collector's albums, the trading must slow down, but the demand may not slack off, as more and more collectors hear of the card and seek it. The inevitable result? Prices will increase as collectors sell or trade their Cracker Jacks for something else, and the Cracker Jack card comes on the market for the second time at a new higher price. Everyone is happy and the law of supply and demand is demonstrated again!

Let's get to the cards:

1 USACARD CRACKER JACK, 10, 12 OR 15

UNITS Our No. 1 choice last month, this card has two exciting features: 1) the familiar Cracker Jack box, and 2) the denomination, which is hidden under a scratch-off in the corner of the card. The higher the denomination, the lower the mintage and the greater the find!

2 AT&T DENNIS THE MENACE & DAIRY QUEEN

Also a two-timer on AMW, the low mintage of 750 coupled with a large collector availability has rocketed the first Dennis the Menace into prominence. An AT&T private card with a good subject/image and a low mintage assures Dennis a place in telecard history. The price is steadily rising, however, removing some of the fun from the search.

3 LD DS WORLD COM MICHAEL JORDAN 10-UNIT Michael Jordan's repeat performances could solidify his card's place in the moneycard hall of fame. The 10,000-issue, 10-unit card feels comfortable now in America's Most Wanted as the 60,000-issue MJ Triptych/internal card also begins to pick up speed. Jordan is only the second player in league history to win the NBA All-Star MVP, the regular season MVP, and the NBA Finals MVP, all during the 1995-96 season. You can pick up a 30-minute Michael Jordan card in most Sears hardware departments for $9.99.

4 THE SCORE BOARD INC./CLASSIC PRO-LINE SERIES II Denominations ranging from $1 to $1,000 mark this set of football stars including quarterbacks Steve Young and Drew Bledsoe and running back Emmitt Smith.

5 THE SCORE BOARD INC./CLASSIC 1996 48-CARD $2 SET

Featured in AMW last month, this is one of several Coca Cola sets in their 1996 series. It has been a popular Classic set because of the low price per card. Featuring designs from the past, the cards draw prices of about $125 for the set.

6 DELTA-COM ICE-BREAKERS

GUM The holographic card sparkles when held to the light, mimicking the actual pack of gum. The 2,500 cards should assure availability in the short term. The card features enhanced services such as voice and fax mailboxes.

9 EAST/WEST TELECOM/AT&T 10 UNIT "THE RACE FOR THE PRESIDENCY"

Featured in July's AMW, this pair of phonecards is being used to stimulate teen-age participation in current political issues. The cards were provided to teen-age participants in the "We the People" program, to raise political awareness by using phonecards to speak to politicians in Washington and Massachusetts. The remaining card inventory is being sold as a fund-raiser to finance small-business ventures for teens.

7 MCI $8 WRANGLER PATCH/TEXAS RODEO A two-time visitor to the America's Most Wanted list, this card offers quite a lot of telephone time to blue jeans wearers. Giddy up and rope one of these 1,500-issue cards soon.

10 FRONTIER X-FILES Paralleling the popularity of the smash hit television series, the unlimited issue phonecard continues to sell well. Most collectors already have theirs, but multiple orders "for friends" keeps the nicely designed X-Files card a popular one.

11 PATCO BARB WIRE TRIUMPH MOTORCYCLE SET Riding the wave of Pamela Anderson-Lee's popularity, Triumph Motorcycles featured the star and their bikes on this five-card set. Two 25-unit cards and three 10-unit cards are available from PATCO, which also created the Barb Wire movie cards, also with Anderson-Lee's image.

8 FIRST UNION JACKSONVILLE JAGUARS PUZZLE SET These First Union Bank Stored Value Visa cards promote the NFL's Jacksonville Jaguars. The $20, $50 and $100 cards are sold as part of an eight-card set and can be found activated and unactivated, both at less than face value. An extra cat-face card accompanies the set. Not a remote phonecard, these multi-purpose chip cards could be utilized on location, either for merchandise or for phone time through special dedicated card phones. For more details, see the May edition of Moneycard Collector.

"America's Most Wanted" is compiled monthly by Moneycard Collector and written by dealer Steve Eyer of Mt. Zion, Ill. All dealers are welcome to participate by faxing a list of their company's top 10 best-selling cards for the month. Please fax before the 20th of each month.

QUICK TAKES

STS, CWI BOOST BEST BUDDIES Strategic Telecom Systems Inc., a marketer and distributor of prepaid long-distance calling cards, and Cable & Wireless Inc., a prepaid card provider and telecommunications carrier, have jointly donated $11,800 to benefit the Miami-based Best Buddies program. The program, founded in October 1994, is an international program that seeks to integrate developmentally disabled students, workers and citizens into mainstream settings by pairing them with a "buddy."

STS auctioned five collector prepaid long-distance cards signed by Anthony Kennedy Shriver, president of Best Buddies, at their April Orlando convention, raising $6,800. In addition to the auction proceeds, each company contributed $2,500.

TLC REBOUNDING FROM CHAPTER 11 TLC, The Long-distance Company, said that sales in the first 60 days following voluntary filing of reorganization under Chapter 11 of the bankruptcy code have exceeded expectations. As soon as a plan is agreed upon by creditors and the court, the company will begin implementing settlements for retailers and consumers still holding non-functioning cards. Darlene Gardner, chief financial officer for CT&T, TLC's parent company, estimated that refunds will not exceed $1 million. For updated refund information, call (313) 202-3059. While a large number of cards were disabled in late March, there were still working cards in use. The original TLC PhoneCards now being sold have a red insert behind the actual phonecard - only cards packaged in that manner have active PINs.

MEMBERSHIP CARD DESIGN PICKED Lori Porecca, co-chair of the USTelecard Association Committee on Membership and Marketing, has announced the winner and runners-up of the contest to design and produce the Association's 1996 Membership Card. A design submitted by ACMI of Memphis, TN won the contest. Two thousand cards will be produced. The new card will carry the USTelecard Association logo and the numerals "1996," and be good for 30 minutes of long distance time.

The card might become a much sought-after collectible given that the association recently decided to change its name to the International Telecard Association.

The designer of the winning card, Doug Omedo, will be acknowledged on the reverse of the card, and will receive a complimentary one-year individual "professional" membership in the association, a low-number membership card, a plaque with a copy of the design, and three sample or proof cards.

To mark our second anniversary, Moneycard Collector asked issuers, dealers, and other phonecard experts to offer tips for beginning collectors. Here they are:

Collect what you enjoy, collect what appeals to you, collect what you can afford, educate yourself through reading catalogs like "H&G," and publications like Moneycard Collector, and join collector clubs. Good luck!

—Ellis Freedman,
Freedman Collectibles Inc.

Collecting cards is collecting knowledge about a growing hobby and industry. The successful collector also is one who knows about the industry, the interesting people and firms that are in it, and the great graphics on the cards and the technology behind them.

—Howard Segermark,
Executive Director,
International Telecard Association

Decide if you want used cards or mint cards — used cards are cheaper and will give the beginning collector more variety for his dollar. Study, study, study. Always approach telephone card collecting as a hobby and not as a way to make money.

—Elliott Maxwell, Asia Telecard

For advice, talk with others who already have been collecting. Find a dealer who you trust and ask his/her advice. Read everything in Moneycard Collector, including editorials. Compare prices. Don't overspend if you can't afford it. Happy collecting!

—Jack B. Ritchie, JR's Telecards

Ask your dealer questions. Keep your eyes open when shopping and paging through Sunday coupons. Check the backs of cards — One of my customers found I sent him a valuable convention card with a different back! Pay attention to mintage: How many went to collector markets or likely end up there?

—Al Chiaravalle,
Global Telecard Company

Subscribe to Moneycard. Study the price guide; compare dealer price lists. Don't try to collect everything. Investment is secondary to enjoyability. Collecting is speculative. Stay within reasonable budget. Find reputable dealers.

—Ernie O. Rose Jr.,
United America Cards

Beginning collectors should educate themselves by subscribing to a minimum of two different phonecard publications. Buy only what you like and enjoy, that way you will never be disappointed with the value of your collection. Find a knowledgeable dealer who is trustworthy.

—Terry F. Windholz, TW Phonecards

Begin your collection with cards that appeal to you personally! This is a hobby and hobbies are supposed to bring satisfaction and enjoyment. The investment aspect of phonecard collecting will take care of itself in time. Knowledgeable collectors are always the best investors.

—Richard A Nelson,
American National Phone Card

Focus your collecting energies thematically. The bounty of phonecards often can be daunting to new collectors. Therefore, by concentrating on phonecard themes, phonecard collecting can maintain its fun and cost-efficient nature.

—Wendy Shames, Telenova PCC Inc.

Keep your eyes on trends in corporate prepaid phonecards. Although they may seem hard to find, the collectibility of corporate cards, like McDonald's and Coca-Cola, is high because of their rarity. Look for co-sponsored cards, with logos of different companies on another company's card. These are very hot collector's items.

—Ilene Kaminsky, ITS

Concentrate first on the basics of this hobby — knowledge. Get an overview of the entire picture, and select a topical area that pleases you. Then you are ready and can start buying or accumulating inexpensive phonecards to get the real hands-on feeling.

—Luis Vigdor, Powell Associates, Inc.

Develop a loyal two-way relationship with a dealer or two. Pick two or three dealers to work with who have a large inventory, are friendly and helpful, take the time to answer your questions and give you advice. Dealers give better prices to their regular loyal customers who give them repeat business.

—Gil Barry, Buffalo Bill Telecard

Like hobbyists in other fields, take your time, study a little bit, ask questions, and obtain several price lists for comparison. Realize that today's "hot, hot, hot" item may well be forgotten in a year or two. You can't swallow the whole world. Don't be rushed at all.

—Steve Eyer, Steve Eyer Inc.

SHOW STOPPERS

SUNBEAMS, BEAMING FACES, AND "BEAM ME UP, SCOTTY" – the third annual American Tele-Card Expo offered plenty of all three. The sun came out – What else would you expect in Miami Beach in June? – and the smiles came out, too, especially for the expo's second annual "Phone Card Excellence Awards." Actor William Shatner, Capt. James T. Kirk of "Star Trek" fame, was on hand to share his vision of the future of phone cards.

Before the show was over, the U.S. TeleCard Association had a new name – changing to the International TeleCard Association to reflect membership by Bell Canada and possible involvement in the future by other international telcos.

Although an industry show, there was much that appealed to collectors, including a handful of cards issued for the show. Eye-catching designs revolved around Florida flora and fauna. The biggest and boldest was Continental Plastic Card Co.'s two-piece jumbo, which was proclaimed the "People's Choice" winner. Two hundred and fifty sets of the three-dimensional "Sun Over South Beach, Moon Over Miami" cards were produced.

Finishing second in the "People's Choice" balloting was WorldLink's teal-and-coral card, sporting a pair of flamingos, while SmartTel's entry, which featured two cartoon figures, was voted third of the 10 show cards submitted for balloting.

Shatner, part owner of Future Call Group Inc., was the keynote speaker for the expo. He likened the industry to the original "Star Trek" show, which has thrived because it offered a vision that is "challenging, intriguing and compelling." Shatner recalled the golden age of radio, when everybody who turned on a radio was "on-line." Now, he said, while computer on-line services offer freedom through speed and anonymity, the telephone offers a sense of intimacy. "If you have a telephone, you're already on-line and prepaid cards are your access," he said.

He told an audience of industry executives that prepaid phonecards is a field whose full potential has yet to be realized. The field is limited only by imagination, creativity, and the understanding of human nature, he said. "Phones have been bringing us closer for years ... phonecards will bring us closer for years to come."

How to Use The Moneycard Collector Price Guide

Price listings in the Moneycard Collector Price Guide are provided only as a guide and are based on price lists supplied by some 30 dealers around the world and on other market information. Listings without prices will be completed as suitable market information becomes available.

Please be aware that this Price Guide is derived from actual market values. Moneycard Collector does not speculate prices. Of course, actual card values must be determined by the buyer and seller, and the Moneycard Collector Price Guide is just that - a guide.

NUMBERING SYSTEM

S (before #) = Sports

a card depicting an organized, competitive sports related image (comes before numerals, i.e. S125)

Post-numerical descriptor (falls after the numeral)

a-z = error/variety

a card whose identical front or back differs from the card with the primary listing; includes language variations, but not denominational variations

M = model/prototype full-front printed card, may or may not be full-back printed, never issued

E = error

card with an error that caused its destruction or recall

J = jumbo

an oversized or jumbo card

P = proof

artwork on front, blank back

R = replacement

a card that replaced a defective or recalled card

S (after #) = specimen

artwork on front, complete back with false or no pin, or word "sample" or "test"

T = trial/test

live card used specifically for testing a stored value card system

NEXT MONTH!

We'll catalog and price hundreds of Canadian cards from both active and non-active issuers, plus, more new prices from U.S. issuers as well!

Special 1996 Olympic Limited Edition of 5,000 Pieces

(This is a Complimentary Serial Numbered Card with no Real Monetary Value)

Barnett Bank and Visa have teamed up to offer consumers a new, convenient way to get cash when traveling on business or vacation. Barnett is the first bank in the Southeast to offer Visa TravelMoney, a pre-paid debit card that travelers can use to "carry" cash worldwide through access at any of the 280,000 Visa/Plus ATMs. Barnett Visa TravelMoney is a disposable card - designed to be discarded when its value is depleted.

The first 10,000 cards sold by Barnett will be a limited Olympic edition. Barnett Visa TravelMoney can be purchased at any of Barnett's 612 offices in Florida and South Georgia beginning June 10. In addition, the 5,000 special edition cards pictured will be made available to collectors through Powell Associates Inc. at the following prices: Single cards at $6.50 each. 20 or more cards at $5.50 plus shipping charges.

The most important new feature of this card is the new Holographic image which totally covers the black magnetic stripe on the reverse. To our knowledge, this is the first time that such a large high grade hologram is being used on a card.

To purchase the above and other collector's cards, call:

CONGRATULATIONS MoneyCard Collector!

The two years since the first issue have seen a lot of change in this hobby. Most of it has been presented in these pages.

The key to a new idea is communication. MoneyCard has always been an open forum for the Collector. We applaud your efforts to keep this hobby strong and healthy.

True to the title "MoneyCard Collector," we appreciate your leadership in covering the number one development of 1996, the Visa Cash Card Pilot program.

Seamless Technologies & Univox Introduce:

The Telergist Society

WHY BECOME A COLLECTOR? The market for pre-paid calling cards is worldwide in scope. This segment of the pre-paid market is rapidly growing in the United States and is already well established overseas. Not only are these cards beautiful and functional, they are also valuable. It is estimated that collecting tele-cards as a hobby will surpass coin, stamp, and trading card collecting in the very near future. Don't miss this opportunity to get in on what could be the beginning of an enjoyable and rewarding new trend.

The annual membership will include:

- Discount "Member Only" Pricing
- The Telergist Society Quarterly, a newsletter featuring articles from industry experts, tips from world renowned collectors, information on new and hot selling cards around the world and much more...
- A Collector's Kit featuring collectable cards, a binder and sleeves, to store and preserve your collection
- A Collector's Hotline (212) 944-6405 to answer questions and provide information
- The opportunity to meet collectors from around the world
- Special promotions and discounts
- Much, much more...

PLASTIC MORE VALUABLE THAN GOLD???

READ COLLECTOR'S OPPORTUNITY - ISSUE NUMBER 11

"They" say that inflation is dead - but don't believe it! For sure, it will be different next time - but rampant inflation will definitely be coming back into our lives - and this time it will be even more destructive than it was during the Carter years.

This is not just our idea - but the beliefs of very knowledgeable, well informed experts. The news is not all bad - but it is important that you know about it, and prepare for it. Some will even profit greatly from the coming inflationary period.

You won't read about this in any of the general circulation telecard publications - but you can read all about it in the new issue number 11 of Collector's Opportunity - the highly opinionated in-house publication of American National Phone Card.

If you are already an ANPC client you will be receiving this most important issue. If you are not yet one of our preferred clients, and wish to receive this most important issue #11 of Collector's Opportunity - send us $5 and we will not only send you this dynamite issue - but also several of our back issues plus a collectible phone card with a value of from $7 to $10. Now how's that for a deal? But be sure to ask for the "Number 11 Special".

Don't Miss This Opportunity to Get the Special 3-Card Set of American Bank Note Company Bicentennial Exhibit Phone Cards

On the evening of December 6, 1995 the American Bank Note Company invited a small number of guests to the opening of their Bicentennial Exhibit at the Museum of American Financial History in New York. Each guest received a special limited-edition set of three phone cards showcasing licensed images from the company's archives.

The first 10-Unit card in the set featured a spectacular orange and black antique stock certificate, Buffalo Bill's Wild West Show. The second card was the 10-Unit Official American Bank Note Company Bicentennial Exhibit Card, and the third was the full-color 10-Unit 1995 Memphis International Paper Money Show Card. Each set had the Official Bicentennial Hologram.

Only 120 sets were distributed at the event, and only 200 sets will be offered to the public. The first two cards WILL NOT BE SOLD SEPARATELY, and this offer may not be repeated. To avoid disappointment, order now.

American Bank Note Company Bicentennial 3-Card Set $99

Please add $2.50 for shipping and insurance. NY residents add sales tax. We accept VISA, Mastercard, American Express. To order now call 800-622-1880 or 212-943-1880.

WE NEED YOUR HELP!

By the end of 1996, Moneycard Collector magazine will complete the first-ever Moneycard Collector Catalog! It will cover all moneycards ever produced in the United States and Canada.

So, we need your help! You'll find a brief questionnaire below. It shouldn't take long to fill out. Simply fax (513) 498-0876 or mail (Moneycard Collector, P.O. Box 783, Sidney, OH 45365) the questionnaire back to us by Aug. 16, 1996. To compensate you for your time, we'll send you a coupon worth $5 savings off the Moneycard catalog.

We appreciate your input and support. As always, it's our pleasure to entertain and inform you ... thanks for trusting us to do both with professionalism and flair!

Tell us about the reference guide or catalog you currently use.

1. Do you own the H&G Standard Catalog of USA Telephone Cards? ☐ Yes ☐ No (If no, please skip to question #3)

Using a sliding scale, with "4" being completely true and "0" being completely false, please rate the following questions:

2. The H&G Catalog is an affordable reference to phone cards.
0 1 2 3 4

3. The moneycard catalog I use is: _____
(If n/a, skip to question #16)

4. I use my catalog often.
0 1 2 3 4

5. My catalog is easy to use.
0 1 2 3 4

6. The H&G Catalog is worth what I paid for it.
0 1 2 3 4

7. I have trouble finding information in the H&G Catalog.
0 1 2 3 4

8. I take my catalog with me when I go to card shows.
0 1 2 3 4

9. I consult my catalog before I purchase a card.
0 1 2 3 4

10. I feel as if my catalog is accurate.
0 1 2 3 4

11. The expertise of the catalog author is a valuable asset.
0 1 2 3 4

12. It is frustrating when not every card listed is pictured in the catalog.
0 1 2 3 4

13. I would recommend my catalog to other collectors because it is the best product of its kind.
0 1 2 3 4

14. I would recommend my catalog to other collectors because it is the only product of its kind.
0 1 2 3 4

15. I would not recommend my catalog to other collectors.
0 1 2 3 4

What would the ideal reference to moneycards be like?

Use the sliding scale at the right to determine to what degree you agree with the statement. Remember, "0" is to completely disagree, and "4" is to completely agree.

16. A good catalog needs a complete index that would cross reference cards by theme, issuer and carrier.
0 1 2 3 4

17. All the card images should be printed in full color.
0 1 2 3 4

18. The catalog should lie flat when opened.
0 1 2 3 4

19. I feel $30 is an acceptable retail price for the catalog.
0 1 2 3 4

20. It's acceptable to have the catalog in black and white, as long as all the cards listed are pictured.
0 1 2 3 4

21. It's acceptable to have the catalog in color even though not all the cards will be pictured.
0 1 2 3 4

22. I won't buy this catalog unless it's in printed in color.
0 1 2 3 4

23. Forty-five dollars (retail) is too much to pay for a catalog.
0 1 2 3 4

24. If this catalog was on CD-ROM, I'd buy it.
0 1 2 3 4

25. If this catalog was available on line, I'd pay to use the service.
0 1 2 3 4

26. I would use this catalog every day.
0 1 2 3 4

27. I'd like blanks to be left in the catalog listing so I could keep track of my collection in the catalog, like a notebook.
0 1 2 3 4

28. I plan to purchase a catalog for myself rather than as a gift for my friends.
0 1 2 3 4

29. The catalog would have to be updatable with periodic supplements to it.
0 1 2 3 4

30. Do you have any other comments or concerns about a Moneycard catalog you'd like to share with us?

Recently representatives of the International Telecard Association (formerly the USTelecard Association) met with the Florida Service Commission in a workshop to discuss possible new regulations on prepaid phonecards. We met June 18 with the Internal Revenue Service in Washington, D.C., and as this goes to press, expect to meet with officials of the Federal Communications Commission soon.

But why should the collector be concerned? After all, they're not going to be subject to the filing requirements, to the disclosure rules, or the penalties for not conforming.

The answer stems from the basic quality of the item being collected. Slugs are of little interest to coin collectors and phonecards that do not provide promised service are of greatly lessened interest to the phonecard collector. The purpose of the regulations are in large part, to protect the consumer, and the product of a card issuer shut down by a government agency may have much less collectible value.

If a collector is concerned whether or not a card he or she is considering purchasing is in conformance with all regulations, it isn't impossible to find out. Forty-two states require some kind of registration, and usually the state's public service commission is the place to ask. Is a card company paying the taxes that they have charged you for? The State revenue department might want to know if a card is being sold in your state. Is the issuer registered to provide international service? The Federal Communications Commission can tell you.

In Tallahassee, the ITA staff made an interesting request. What would the Association's proposed standards program require of its members who produce prepaid phonecards? The obvious inference was that they might adopt regulations that embody many of the proposed standards. Some you can check by looking on the back of a card, or making a toll-free call:

- Can you tell what the cost of a call is before you buy the card? That can mean point-of-sale materials or even calling a toll-free number to determine the rate to another country.
- Is the name of the responsible company displayed on the card: the firm that provides the service, and files the "tariffs" with the states.
- Is there a toll-free customer service number?
- If the card expires, is that date or mechanism clear?
- If the card is a sample, proof or voided card, is it clearly marked as such?

And, feel free to contact the Association's Consumer Hotline at (800) 333-3513. We have some phone numbers and perhaps some advice. Good collecting!

Howard Segermark

Howard Segermark is Executive Director of the International Telecard Association. The Association has a Collectors division - annual dues are $30 to receive its membership/phone card, newsletter and other benefits.

IT'S NOW THE "INTERNATIONAL" TELECARD ASSOCIATION

(Formerly, the USTelecard Association)

Why?

Because collectors, dealers, producers, carriers, and all in the prepaid phone card hobby and industry recognize that this is a world market.

Few phone cards are "domestic service only" but even more importantly, the problems we face are world-wide.

The Association is at the forefront in consumer education and protection issues, and in working on behalf of fair regulation and taxation.

Cars on Cards

Anniversary bells are ringing and horns are honking loudly!

By Jim Chudnow

The year 1996 marks the 100th anniversary of the regular production of the automobile in the United States; the 20th anniversary of the introduction of the first telephone card, in Italy; and, last but not least, this month marks the second anniversary edition of Moneycard Collector. What better reason to catch up with some cars on cards?

While a working model of a steam-powered vehicle was created in 1678 by Ferdinand Verbiest, a Jesuit missionary in China, the basic modern gasoline-powered engine dates to 1863, when France's Jean Joseph Etienne Lenoir devised a one-cylinder version to propel a vehicle. Production of "modern" mechanical conveyances began in 1885, when Gottlieb Daimler and Karl Benz independently produced "horseless carriages" in Germany. Brothers Charles and J. Frank Duryea developed America's first successful gas-powered auto in 1893-93.

So why is 1996 being celebrated as the 100th anniversary of the auto in the U.S.? For the most part, credit geography: While the Duryeas sold a production run of 13 matching motorized vehicles in 1896, of more significance was the fact that a century ago, the first cars by Charles Brady King, Henry Ford, Alexander Wilton and Ransom Eli Olds were made or operated in southeast Michigan. Because of their success, the Detroit region, rather than the Duryeas' home of Springfield, Mass., became the automobile capital of the U.S.

AmeriVox; Classic Cars series by artist Bud Juneau; $20 denomination, 10,000 of each issued; October 1995.

CLASSIC CARS

In the early decades of the 20th century, innovative vehicles were turned out by a variety of manufacturers. Cars from that period are depicted on AmeriVox's set of "Classic Cars" phonecards, released in August 1995.

The series features foil-like colored cars on silvery backgrounds, offering a sculptured, three-dimensional look. The series, by artist Bud Juneau, consists of five $20 cards; 10,000 of each were issued: a red 1908 Ford Model "T" touring sedan; a blue-gray 1930 LaSalle V-8 convertible; a red 1931 Chrysler Waterhouse convertible coupe; a turquoise LDDS; WilTel dragster: $4.69 denomination; 5,000 issued; 1995.

1934 Packard V-12 convertible sedan; and a black 1941 Cadillac Sixty-Special sedan.

A post-World War II example is a red 1949 Hudson, shown on the Schneider Communications $10 phonecard issued August 1995 for the 20th anniversary of the Straits Area Antique Show in St. Ignace, Mich. There were 2,600 cards printed.

Here's a sampling of some of other auto-related cards that are out there cruising around:

CARS OF THE FIFTIES

If you like cars from the 1950s and '60s, you might want to try finding a card HT produced in October 1995 for "The Beach Boys at Laguna Seca." Issued in a quantity of 3,500 (plus about 100 test versions and up to 10 blank-back proofs), the card shows a classic '50s T-Bird, a Pontiac GTO, and two other cars, plus the logos of the GM MasterCard & Budweiser beer.

THE "WHITE" WAY

Former Dallas Cowboy football star Randy White owns North Texas Chevy/Geo. In October 1994, he had GEM International & CPC produce 5,000 cards showing White beside a full-size Chevy truck. These 15-minute cards were given to previous and prospective customers.

NUTS AND BOLTS

Collect & Save Associates released the first four phonecards, 5,000 each, in a planned series of 37 called the "Manx Classic Series," featuring a 1964 A.C. Cobra 289; a 1958 Maserati 450S; a 1933 Rolls Royce 20/25; and the 1908 Itala Grand Prix. Each card has 30 minutes of phone time. British automotive artist David Nicholas Sykes created the "nuts and bolts" details. Additional four-card groupings will be released through 1997, the company says.

MOTOR TREND'S "CAR OF THE YEAR '94"

Motor Trend's pick for 1994 "Car of The Year," the Ford Mustang, is pictured on a card that was to have phone service provided by RCI/Frontier. However, the card never was formally issued, thus only 100 "prototype" cards exist, printed by Custom Cards.

ANNIVERSARIES AT FORD

In November 1994, GTS released two cards celebrating significant milestones of Ford cars: the 40th anniversary of the Thunderbird and the 30th anniversary of the Mustang. The 10-minute cards, both with a mintage of 5,000, expired May 31, 1996.

FIRED UP AT FIRESTONE

This company rolled into view with their own phonecard, which features one of their race cars. The 10-minute card was issued by SmarTel on Jan. 1, 1995, in a quantity of 5,000. It was offered as a catalog item by Firestone.

WILTEL ON WHEELS

In early 1995, LDDS issued 5,000 cards for WilTel that depicted their sponsored drag-racing car.

GREEN WITH KELLY

The logo of Kelly Tires includes a background of Kelly green, as can be seen on the card printed by SmarTel in April 1995. This 60-minute card — 30,000 were printed — was given to people who purchased a set of Kelly tires.

SmarTel; Kelly Tires; 60 minutes; 30,000 issued; April 1995.

GEM International; Randy White Chevy truck; 15 minutes; 5,000 issued; October 1994.

GTS; Ford anniversaries; 10 minutes; 5,000 of each issued; November 1995.

The Score Board Inc./Classic; 1996 Coke Series II; $10 denomination; 10-card set, one in every 35 packs; April 1996.

CHRYSLER TECHNOLOGY CENTER

A 15-minute card honoring Chrysler Technology Center in Auburn Hills, Mich., was issued in 1995 by Phone Card Express. Time on the 5,000 cards, provided by Frontier Communications, expires on Dec. 31, 1996. Employees received the card, which was attached to a keychain, as part of an internal promotion.

FORD CREDIT

To highlight their "Wherever you go you can count on Ford Credit Finance and Insurance solutions" slogan, Ford had Phone Card Express issue a 10-minute phone card. About 5,000 cards were available as a gift to people attending the Ford Credit booth at the National Automobile Dealers Association convention. The card, which provides enhanced services by Frontier Communications, expires Jan. 1, 1997.

CRUISING WITH CHEVYS

ATS Network — now part of LCI International — issued a series of cards in April 1995: They printed 4,700 5-minute cards showing a '95 Corvette, and 600 5-minute cards showing a '95 Chevy Camaro. In September 1995, ATS issued more items in its Chevy series: 5,000 10-minute cards picturing a '57 Corvette, and 2,500 10-minute cards highlighting a '55 Bel Air. ATS also issued a 60-minute version of the '55 Bel Air, which was printed in a quantity of only 150.

VIPER IN YOUR WALLET

The exotic-looking Dodge Viper is featured on three different phone cards, part of a set released in April 1996 by Hannibal Communications and ATCALL. There were 3,000 sets produced: One card pictures the 1991 Indy 500 pace car; another shows the 1996 Indy 500 pace car and the third highlights the 1996 GT-1 Class factory race car. All have five minutes of time on them, expiring Aug. 1, 1997.

SHOW & TELL

The New York International Auto Show motored through the Jacob Javits Center in New York City April 6-14. As the "Official Phonecard Provider" for that show, B&J Telecard issued a card in two versions. One was a 3,300-issue, 7-minute card labeled "Greater New York Auto Dealers' Association." It was handed out free to the media and exhibitors. The other card, sequentially numbered to 2,000, offered 20 minutes of time. It is labeled "B&J" at the bottom, and sold for $5 at the show.

WINNER'S CIRCLE

In October 1995, HT released 3,500 three-card sets called "Winner's Circle, Series I" featuring race cars in action. Housed in a special informative folder that depicts tracks they race on, the 10-unit cards featured are the 1995 Indy-winning Reynard-Ford driven by Jacques Villeneuve; the 1995 Monaco Grand Prix-winning Benetton-Renault driven by Michael Schumacher; and a McLaren F1 GTF, which won the 1995 24 Hours at Le Mans, driven by the team of Dalmás, Lehto and Sekiya.

LLDS; Pennzoil Indy Series; 10- and 20-units; 149,000 (10 units), 500 (20 units) issued; September 1994.

LLDS; Pennzoil Nascar Series; 10- and 20-units; 69,900 (10 units), 600 (20 units) issued; September 1994.

HT Technologies; Winner's Circle I; 10 units; 3,500 sets; October 1995.

ROLLING WITH COLA

For the Coca-Cola/Sprint Phone Cards/Cels '96 set released in April 1996, The Score Board Inc. printed a series of 10 micro-lined $10 cards featuring Coke delivery trucks used through the years.

WINSTON CUP SERIES

Finish Line Racing produced a series of 134 different cards for their innovative PhonePaks product featuring NASCAR "Winston Cup" drivers and their vehicles (many of which are sponsored by large companies that put logos on the cars). The cards were issued in early 1996, in quantities of 5,000 or 9,500 are the two series of $2 cards, 570 each of the $5 and $10 cards, 420 of the $50 cards, 280 of the six $100 cards, and 25 of the four $1,000 cards.

USE THE MEGA-PHONE

Finish Line Racing's die-cut jumbos, the "Mega-Phone XL," are available to collectors through boxes of their '96 racing line of trading cards. Four different cards picture race drivers Bill Elliott and his McDonald's racing team's Ford; Mark Martin and his Valvoline racing team's Ford; Rusty Wallace and his Miller racing team's Ford; and Jeff Gordon and his DuPont racing team's Chevy. Finish Line issued 7,850 of each $25 denomination card: 7,500 for redemptions, 250 inactive, promotional cards for the TeleCard World '96 Atlanta show in late April, and 100 printer's proofs.

ALLIED OFFENSIVE

AlliedSignal is a sponsor of Team Penske Indy 500 cars. A card showing their low-slung racing cars was issued in February 1996. Produced by Hannibal Communications and ATCALL, 1,500 cards were printed. The time expires Jan. 1, 1997. At a convention of Society of Automotive Engineers, they gave away 350 30-minute & 150 10-minute versions as mementos. The remaining 1,000 10-minute versions were released for sale to the public.

PENNZOIL TURMOIL

Did you miss the Pennzoil racing team cards issued by LDDS in September 1994? Each of the two cards tended to be sold at meets in only certain areas of the country, rather than both being sold together: 139,900 Indy Series "C" 10-unit cards and 500 20-unit versions, plus 59,900 Nascar Series "S" 10-unit cards and 600 20-unit versions. The 20-unit cards of both versions were internal Pennzoil employee cards. Several thousand of the cards were created specifically as blank-backed proofs. Earlier this year, Creative Communications of Houston bought 10,000 of both 10-unit cards from Pennzoil and issued 5,000 sets. They purchased AT&T time to back the cards, created a folder for the cards and released what people know as the "second edition." However, these cards do not represent a separate print run from the original 1994 issue.

FLAT OUT

That's the name of a card issued in May 1996 by ATCALL as a promotion for their new residential long-distance service. It features Tommy Kendall driving his Mustang Cobra. The time on this 11-minute card expires September 1997. While the initial printing was in the thousands, it is an ongoing project, so more cards are expected to be printed as needed.

CORVETTE FANS

The National Corvette Museum in Bowling Green, Kentucky (where Corvettes are manufactured) has released the first in an ongoing series of more than 30 cards that celebrate the history of that popular American sportscar: In mid-June they issued a card showing the '89 Corvette on the seashore, with the museum's logo. Then, released at the end of June, their second card shows two '63 models — the split-rear-window, with a silver-and-red convertible next to it. Both cards have a $10 face value, with phone service by MCI; 1,000 of each were issued.

FOREIGN TRIBUTES TO U.S. CARS

American cars have been featured on a number of cards printed by various foreign nations. In 1993, BT (British Telecom) issued 5,000 5-unit mag-stripe cards showing what they call an "Exclusive Sportwagen 'Trans-Am'" — but it's an error card, because they're really showing the Chevrolet Camaro.

BABY BELL NOTES

MERGERS AND PERSONNEL TURNOVERS AT THE REGIONAL BELL OPERATING COMPANIES SIGNAL CHANGES FOR COLLECTORS. Mergers, in the cases of NYNEX-Bell Atlantic and Pacific Telesis-Southwestern Bell, have linked companies with active phonecard programs (NYNEX, Pacific Telesis) with companies that have shown a lesser interest in prepaid phonecards. While in the short term some RBOCs may appear uncertain about the direction of prepaid programs, collectors shouldn't expect that to last. Especially for larger telcos, phonecards are important because they help determine who owns the total communications relationship with the customer.

The RBOCs, specifically Ameritech and Pacific Bell, are concentrating on selling promotional card programs. Recent examples are Ameritech programs sold to Michelin and Motorola, and PacBell cards issued for Rally's and BelAir and, for a while, Marine World Africa USA.

AMERITECH

More private cards are in the works, as this company aggressively pursues outside phonecard business.

Ameritech; Big Hurt Fan Club; 10 minutes; 4,000 issued; February 1996.

The Frank Thomas (Chicago White Sox baseball player) Big Hurt fan club sent out a brochure, featuring information mentioned in the June 1996 Baby Bell Notes. One of the membership benefits is a 10-minute Frank Thomas Big Hurt Fan Club Ameritech phonecard. There were 4,000 produced.

Club membership is $19.95, plus

$3 shipping for the other souvenirs you get, check or money order only. Illinois residents have to add 8.75 percent sales tax. For more information, write the Big Hurt Fan Club, Box 512, Carbondale, IL 62903.

BELL SOUTH

At the Atlanta Olympics, 200 special Bell South payphones accept the VISA stored value cards (SVCs). Most of the special payphones, installed in June, will be at Olympic venues. Of the three banks that have issued SVCs to date, only the Inaugural Series $10, $20 and $50 First Union Bank Coin Design SVCs has the Bell South logo on the reverse.

NEVADA BELL

The first Nevada Bell cards were issued in June. They feature the same four designs as the Pacific Bell cards issued in February, and illustrated in the April 1996 Moneycard Collector. One of the reasons for the same designs is that PacBell is providing the service —

Pacific Telesis companies. Eventually, Nevada Bell will issue its own chip and remote memory cards.

PACIFIC BELL

If you bought any of the $50 Alexander Graham Bell phonecards, check their condition. Be sure to look for deep scratches on the obverse of the cards, due to production problems.

Even deep scratches aren't always apparent, especially when the cards are in plastic sleeves or sealed envelopes.

Damaged cards will be exchanged by Pacific Bell at Box 5020, San Ramon, CA 94583.

Pacific Bell; Alexander Graham Bell; $50; 10,000 issued; 1995.

PacBell's Gay and Lesbian Employees Association's Freedom Flag card has a $10 denomination, and 6,000 were produced. They are for sale, at face value plus shipping, by calling GALEEMAS at (888) 4PBGAYS or (888) 472-4297.

NYNEX

Two Radio City Music Hall change cards will be released later this summer. Both of them will be $5 cards. The Jacob Javits Center card, originally planned for release last September, will be a $10 denomination.

U S WEST

The second issue of U S WEST's collector newsletter was sent to all club members. Along with the newsletter was a $1 Falling Coins complimentary card. Each member was given with a survey to fill out. When mailed in, the member received a coupon good for 25 percent off their next card purchase.

One card that probably won't be for sale is the $5 Minnesota State Fair card, which was issued for the August event. Most of the 2,000 cards were sold at gift shops on the fairgrounds. Incidentally, the $1 CardTech/SecurTech, and $20 Telecard World Atlanta cards were among the first chip cards in the world to use the new Solaic (the card manufacturer) MOSAIC (Microchip on Surface And In Card) technology, where the ultra-thin chip is simply placed on the surface of the polycarbonate card during the printing process.

SOUTHWESTERN BELL

As was mentioned in Quik Takes in August, Southwestern Bell withdrew its Spectrum cards due to its controversial policy of now only issuing phonecards with a six-month expiration period. Most people believe a year, or preferably, indefinitely, is more appropriate.
